Grants Permission for Shortstop Sewell to Play

PERMISSION for the Cleveland Americans to use Shortstop Sewell, successor of the late Ray Chapman, in the world's series, if the Indians win the American Leagus Pennant, was granted last night by Charles H. Ebbets, presi-dent of the Brooklyn National League champions. Sewell joined the Cieveland team after Chapman's death and his contract was promulgust 30, making him ineligible for the inter-leagus series. Mr. Ebbets's announcement was made in reply to a telegram from President J. Dunn of Cleveland, in which he made a request to use Sewell. The Brooklyn president said he hoped Cleveland is successful in the American result in the American result. the American race in view of the in-dictment of the Chicago American players.

The jubilation of Brooklyn fans over the triumph that brought the National League championship home centred chiefly last night about the personnel of the club and the figure of Charles Ebbets. More than 5,000 people packed the Hanson Place Y. M. C. A. auditorium. Borough President Edward Reigelmann took charge of the ceremonies and said he was positive Brooklyn would take the world's series. Charley Ebbets made a from baseball—when he had rounded out forty years of management—which he computed would be two years hence.

After the speeches the players wer After the speeches the players were lined up by County Clerk William E. Kelly and compelled to make a brief scknowledgment before getting watch fobs that had been provided by Brooklyn fans. Wilbert Robinson, the Brooklyn manager, received a silver cup also grom the fans, it was announced.

There was a brief reference to the baseball scandal when Mr. Ebbets said baseball as played by the Brooklyn team was the cleanest game ever, whatever it was the cleanest game ever, whatever it might be when played elsewhere.

OTTO KNABE GAVE FIRST TIP ON CROOKEDNESS

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.
WILLEMBERHEIS, Pa., Sept. 28.—Eddle
Welsh, former basketball star, now sport writer of the Wilkesbarre Times Leader, made a statement to-day giv-ing what he says are inside facts of the baseball scandal, Welsh's statement, published in the Times Leader, follows:

"In December of 1919 the writer, a close personal friend of one of the Sox players, received an inside inkling of the alleged 'frameup' charges. At that time all the facts recently brought to light were imparted to the writer, who, however, before hearing the charges had promised not to divulge this informa-tion for the sake of baseball. In other words the writer was held to a confidence he did not care to break. "News that the series games were fixed first startled baseball fandom a few days after the last game of the series had been played. The investiga-tors secured their first tip from Otto Knabe, the Phillies' old second baseman. Knabe was in partnership with Kid Gleason in the 'book making' business. They had been partners for years and a pool of money had been got together by the sporting element and placed in the hands of Knabs to bet.

"The latter was inclined to back the White Sox and was all primed to place these bets when a friend, a ball player, handed him a tip. It was to this effect:
"'Chicago will not win the series, as certain ball players have been fixed.""

Speciel to Till BUN AND NEW YORK PERSON. Chicago, Sept. 18 .- "I'm going to take my club to St. Louis Thursday morning for a throe game series with the Browns," said Manager Glesson of the White Sox this afternoon. "We'll do all we can to heat 'em; we'll have a gold ball club even without the stare that are laid off. If the men are found guilty after a fair trial, let them be punished. It will be the best thing for baseball. I'll be tickled to death if we win the pennant yet, after all that has happened lately."

Pollowers of the White Sox figured at once on the probable lineup of the team once on the probable lineup of the team in the three remaining games of the season starting in St. Louis Friday. Information filtering from the club's management indicated the following possible lineup: Paber, Kerr, Wilkinson and Hodge, pitchers; Schalk and Lynn, catchers; Jourdan, first base; Edward Collins, second base; McClellan, shortstep; John Collins, third base; Leibold, right field; Strunk, centre field, and Falk, left field.

White Sox Riddled Race Virtually Over

By winning yesterday's game while the White flox were idle the Clevelands made a slight mathematical increase in their chances of capturing the American League pennant, but a factor of vastly more importance in their favor was the suspension by Ownar Comiskey of the seven active members of his Chicago team who were indicted by the Grand Jury. It is regarded now as a foregone concluindicted by the Grand Jury. It is regarded now as a foregone conclusion that the Indians will win. Riddled by the loss of Felsoh, Weaver, Cicotte, Jackson, Risberg, McMullia and Williams, the White Sox are a mere shell of a team and will do well to win another game. Besides their morale must be shot to pleces by the blow which fell yesterday, to say nothing of their interest in the race for the rest of this scason.

The world's series with the White Sox playing would be a farce after

The world's series with the White Sox playing would be a farce after what has happened. Mathematically the situation is this: The White Sox have three more games to play, the Indians five. If the former win all three the latter must win three out of five to the and four out of five to win. The Clevelands lead by a full game and have won 95 and lest 54. The White Sox have won 95 and lost 55.

The Yankees by winning their two games to-day will tie the White Sox for second place should the latter lose their three remaining sames. Each then would have won 25 and least feet.
